[XXth Year.] THURSDAY, October 25, 1764. [No. 1016.]

PARIS, Auguſt 10.

WITHIN theſe laſt three Days no leſs than 18 different Couriers have been diſpatched to Madrid.—All is Hurry and Confuſion at Verſailles; Expreſſes are every Moment ſent to the different Seaports; and if ſome Wiſdom are to be credited, we are on the Eve of a new Rupture with the moſt formidable of our Neighbours. This, and the Diſtractions which are but too juſtly apprehended in Poland, threaten to deluge Europe afreſh with Blood, and throws an uncommon Air of Dejection over this Metropolis, which was juſt beginning to recruit from the Miſeries of the late War.

From the Viſtula, Auguſt 3. According to ſome of the laſt Advices from the Frontiers of the Kingdom, Prince Radzivil, with the Remains of his Troops, is in Turkiſh Walachia, and ſeems to have a Deſign to join the Corps of Count Branicky, grand General of the Crown, who ſtill keeps on the Borders of Hungary. Other Advices agree, that the ſaid Prince is in Walachia, but add, that the Troops have been partly made Priſoners, and the Reſt diſperſed.

Naples, July 24. The Number of Perſons that daily die in this City does not now exceed One Hundred; but the Diſtemper daily increaſes in the other Cities and Towns. However, the Body of St. James de la Marche, being expoſed to public View, Blood has iſſued out of one of the Ribs; which is looked upon as a good Omen.

LONDON, July 12.

By the Death of Lord Bath all his real and perſonal Eſtates, to a very conſiderable Amount, devolve, according to the Tenor of his Will, to his Brother, Lieutenant-General PULTENEY, except a few Legacies, the chief of which, we hear, are the Sum of 4000 l. to Mrs. Johnſton, Wife of —— Johnſton, Eſq; of Edinburgh, and ſecond Couſin to his late Lordſhip; an Annuity of 600 l. per Annum to George Colman, of Lincoln's-Inn, Eſq; 500 l. and his Lordſhip's valuable Library, to the Rev. It is poſitively ſaid, there has not been one Step taken of late Years, by the Adminiſtration, without the Concurrence of the Earl of Bath, whoſe Loſs is lamented by the greateſt Men in the Kingdom.

Tucker, Brother to Mrs. Warburton, and his Iſſue; which failing, to his Niece Miſs Mary Allen and her Iſſue; which failing, to go to the Heir at Law.

It is ſaid that an unhappy Variance ſubſiſts between a certain great Earl and a ſmall puiſſant Duke. Strange! That two ſuch wiſe Heads which gave Peace to all Europe ſhould not be at Peace with each other.

We hear likewiſe that a great Commoner, who ſome Time ago reſolved to retire from public Affairs, has lately been in Town, and had an Interview with the Earl above ſpoken of. This is nothing ſurpriſing, as it is well known that the Gentleman is apt to change his Mind.

Auguſt 7. When Capt. Sampſon was brought to the Bar, on being aſked, whether he would accept of his Majeſty's Pardon, on Condition of going abroad for Life, he, in a very genteel and polite Manner, addreſſed himſelf to the Court in the following Terms:

"My Lord,

"It is entirely above my Comprehenſion, to expreſs the Gratitude and Thanks I owe, for ſuch an extraordinary Mercy to an unfortunate young Man, whoſe Life was forfeited to public Juſtice.

"I moſt humbly accept of the preferred Terms, and will never ceaſe to pray for the eternal Happineſs of my moſt benevolent King, thro' whoſe moſt gracious Mercy I now exiſt.

"Words cannot, my Lord; yet my future Conduct ſhall demonſtrate, that it may not be unfit ſometimes to temper Juſtice with Mercy.

"And I moſt humbly return your Lordſhip, and this Honourable Court, my moſt grateful Thanks for the Trouble they have been at, and for their generous Behaviour to me."

As the Indians make their Attacks by Surprize, on ſingle Families, and having murdered Men, Women, and Children, eſcape through unknown ways, and their Track in the Woods is ſoon loſt by their Purſuers; it is thought, if the Breed of true Blood Hounds could be once obtained there, they would be of great Uſe in ſuch Purſuits; and by diſcovering the Enemy in their Retreats, give our People frequent Opportunities of coming up with them, and recovering the Captives and Plunder, and thereby more effectually diſcourage their Attempts, and induce them to ſue for, and more faithfully keep, Peace with us; and that during the War, ſuch Hounds, by diſcovering the Indian Ambuſcades, may be the happy Means of ſaving the Lives of many of our poor Countrymen. It is propoſed, therefore, to furniſh every Scouting Party of the Soldiers, appointed to guard the Frontiers, with ſome of theſe Hounds.

It is ſaid a Stop will be put next Seſſion to the farther Exportation of Corn Spirits to North America.

He purchaſed all his Poſts in the Army, except his Majority, to which he was advanced by the late Earl Stanhope, then Commander of her late Majeſty Queen Anne's Forces in Spain, in Conſequence of the General's ſaving his and Gen. Carpenter's Lives in a Battle, by which Means the Victory was obtained. B O S T O N, October 8.

A ſurprizing Concatenation of Events to one Man in one Week.

Publiſhed on Sunday—married on Monday—had a Child on Tueſday—ſtole a Horſe on Wedneſday—baniſhed on Thurſday—died on Friday—buried on Saturday. [Great Variety in one Week.]

There are many Articles of Dreſs manufactured in this Government, which, if wore, would be a great Saving thereto, particularly Knit Stockings, Leather Habits for working, Shoes, &c. more eſpecially Shoes for Women, which are made at Lynn, and exceed in Strength and Beauty, any that are uſually imported of Hole's Make, from London.—It is hoped the public ſpirited Ladies of this Town and Province will turn their immediate Attention to this and other Branches of Manufacture.

It is now confidently affirmed by ſome, which however may not be true in Fact, that the Severity of the new A-t of P-------t is to be imputed to Letters, Repreſentations, NARRATIVES, &c. tranſmitted to the M------y about two Years ago by Perſons of Eminence on this Side the Water---And that ſome Copies of Letters are actually in this Town, and others ſoon expected----To whatever Cauſe theſe Severities are Owing, it behoves the Colonies to repreſent their Grievances in the ſtrongeſt Point of Light, and to Unite in ſuch Meaſures as will be effectual to obtain Redreſs.

It is thought a certain G-----r on the Continent will ſoon be recalled; and that a L--------t G------r will be advanced to his Place.

It is feared by many who wiſh well to Great-Britain, that the new A-t of P-------t will greatly Diſtreſs, if not totally Ruin ſome of HER OWN Manufactures.---It is thought that by means of this A-t, leſs of her Woollen Cloths, to the Amount of ſome Thouſands Sterling, will be purchaſed in this cold Climate the enſuing Winter.

We are told that all the Funerals the laſt Week were conducted upon the new Plan of Frugality.

Nothing but FRUGALITY can now ſave the diſtreſs'd Northern Colonies from impending Ruin.—It ought to be a Conſolation to the good People of a certain Province, that the greateſt Man in it, exhibits the moſt rigid Example of this political, as well as moral Virtue.

There ſeems to be a Diſpoſition in many of the Inhabitants of this and the neighbouring Governments to cloath themſelves with their own Manufacture.—At Hampſtead on Long-Iſland, in the Province of New-York, a Company of Gentlemen have ſet up a New Woollen Manufactory, and have given Notice to Gentlemen, Shopkeepers, and Others, of any of the Provinces, that by ſending proper Patterns of any Colour, they may be ſupplied with Broad-Cloths, equal in Fineneſs, Colour and Goodneſs, and cheaper than any imported: The Proprietors give great Encouragement to any Perſons who are any way verſed in the Woollen Manufactory, ſuch as Woolcombers, Weavers, Clothiers, Shearers, Dyers, Spinners, Carders, or underſtanding any Branch of the Broad Cloth, Blanket, or Stroud Manufactory.—At Jamaica on the ſaid Iſland, one Tunis Polpham is erecting a Fulling-Mill, which will be compleat in about a Month, and carry on all the Branches of a Fuller and Dyer of Cloth.
